

PINSEEKERS

By Jack Bindon

Tuesday was a continuation of BAD weather, however, 8 stout players did complete the prescribed 9 holes. The bad news is that was not enough players to qualify for sweeps disbursement. The rain was hard at times, then slight, then hard again. We all got thoroughly soaked.

The good news was a nice lunch was waiting for us when we finally finished. It was our Pinseekers annual meeting. David Cook, our current President, presented a slate of prospective officers and that slate was approved by the membership vote. I will be continuing as Secretary and will prepare a full copy of the minutes. Only two officer changes are noted. Tim Short take on the role of Secretary when I leave for the desert in November, and John Eige will be the new Treasurer, replacing Martin Hoek after eight years of service.

The big news was the presentation of the winner of the Pinseekers sweeps competition plaque to Richard Petroski.
